1 Introduction

It includes statistics, justification and motivation about the study. It must contain goal, research question and scope of the research. You should provide an overview of the methodology and the main findings.

2 Literature Review

It describes the state-of-the-art body and analyzes the most representative studies related to the research project. It must include a summary of methodological and practical gaps identified by authors that clearly positions the main contribution of the research.

3 Methods and Procedures

This section provides a description of the theoretical framework you applied to do research, the main methods and techniques used to collect data, perform analysis, etc. Please number formulas to ease explanation elsewhere in the manuscript by citing the numbers of equations, inequalities, etc.

4 Experimental/Numerical Setting

The experimental setting, the values of parameters or the data collection to feed a practical/empirical model (connected to a case study) are described in detail in this section. The description of the numerical design or data set must be linked with the methodological framework and the model introduced in the previous section. If you work with a company, organization make sure to describe their problem and case study in a concise, clear way.

5 Results and Discussion

Please explain in detail your results and discuss main findings, recommendations, managerial insights and most important methodological results. Make use of graphs and tables to ease explanation wherever is needed.
